

High Performance Learning
Year 8: Detectives in Literature
Highest Standards

	Knowledge	Skills (High performance ways of thinking and behaving)
Platinum	I effectively most of the components of detective literature in my writing. I have strong, fluent knowledge of the detective fiction authors that we have discussed.	Creating I effectively use rules of detective literature and to create a compelling and interesting detective story. Linking: I seek out and explain connections between my story and classic detective literature.
Gold	I effectively use some of the components of detective literature in my writing. I have good knowledge of some of the detective fiction authors that we have discussed.	Creating I use rules of detective literature to create an interesting and effective detective story. Linking: I describe connections between my story and classic detective literature.
Silver	I effectively use several of the components of detective literature in my writing. I have some knowledge of the detective fiction authors that we have discussed.	Creating I try to use rules of detective literature to create an interesting detective story. Linking: I describe some basic connections between my story and classic detective literature.
Bronze	I attempt to use some of the components of detective literature in my writing. I have basic knowledge of one of the detective fiction authors that we have discussed.	Creating I try to use rules of detective literature to create a basic detective story. Linking: I try to describe some basic connections between my story and classic detective literature, although this may not be convincing.